M: Thanks for inviting me out tonight. I've been wanting to try this place for weeks. I usually pass it on my way home from work but never seem to have time to stop.

W: I've been dying to come here as well. I was worried that the menu might not be accommodating. But one of my close friends ate here last week. She's a vegetarian. She told me that there were a lot of options for her, and they offered alternative dishes.

W：我也一直特别想来这里。我当时还担心菜单可能不太适合不同的饮食需求。不过，我有一位好朋友上周来这里吃过饭。她是素食者。她告诉我，这里有很多适合她的选择，而且他们还会提供替代菜品。

W: I wouldn't know. My parents followed the same diet. Even when I was younger, we never had meat during meals, and I never really had a craving to try it. I bet it would be hard though, giving up something you're accustomed to eating. I tried cutting back on coffee in the morning, and it was awful. Come to think of it, it was probably even worse for my colleagues that had to deal with me at morning meetings.

W: That's an interesting question. I never thought to ask them though. My best guess is for health reasons. They're not terribly active or knowledgeable about animal preservation efforts, but they're serious about their health. Both are in their 70s now, but eat organic as often as possible and take part in regular physical exercise. Neither of them has any health problems, and they hardly ever get sick.

Questions 9 to 11 are based on the passage you have just heard.

Athletes are seen as heroes because they can do things that most of us can't do. They can hit fastballs coming at them at nearly 100 miles an hour, and leap and hang in the air, seemingly defying gravity. They get paid millions of dollars for their efforts, and their names and facesappear on everything from running shoes to advertising boards.

运动员被视为英雄，是因为他们能做到我们大多数人做不到的事情。他们能击中以接近每小时100英里的速度飞向他们的快速球，还能跃起并悬停在空中，似乎在对抗重力。他们因自己的努力而获得数百万美元的报酬，他们的名字和面孔出现在从跑鞋到广告牌的各种物品上。

Athletes who are champions also show qualities such as perseverance, dedication, and the ability to keep their cool under pressure. Many show those same qualities off the playing field, too. Stories about superstar athletes teach us about working hard and believing in ourselves and then being passionate about what we do. Although it's usually bad behavior that gets an athlete a spot on the six o'clock news, many high-profile players work hard to be positive role models to children. They raise money for charities and act as mentors, talking to student groups and volunteering their time to programs that help children keep off drugs and stay in school.

成为冠军的运动员还展现出诸如毅力、奉献以及在压力下保持冷静的能力等品质。许多人在赛场之外也展现出相同的品质。关于超级巨星运动员的故事教导我们要努力拼搏、相信自己，并对自己所做的事情充满热情。尽管通常是不良行为让运动员登上六点钟新闻，但许多备受关注的球员仍努力成为孩子们积极的榜样。他们为慈善机构筹集资金并担任导师，与学生群体交流，并志愿为帮助儿童远离毒品和留在学校的项目奉献时间。

Still, even the greatest champions have flaws. Just because an athlete has the perfect golf swing doesn't mean he is the perfect parent, friend or spokesperson. They also make mistakes. Separating an athlete's professional and personal lives can be tough. When a sports star gets in trouble with the law, or does something wrong in their private life, fans are often left disappointed. Before he died, baseball star Mickey Mantle, who was plagued with alcohol problems, told young ballplayers and the fans who admired him "to play like me, don't be like me."

尽管如此，即使是最伟大的冠军也有缺陷。不能仅凭一名运动员拥有完美的高尔夫挥杆动作，就意味着他是完美的父母、朋友或代言人。他们也会犯错。将运动员的职业生活与个人生活区分开来可能会很困难。当体育明星触犯法律，或在私生活中做错事时，粉丝往往会感到失望。棒球巨星米奇·曼特尔生前饱受酗酒问题困扰，他在去世前曾对年轻球员和崇拜他的球迷说：“像我一样打球，不要像我一样做人。”

Questions 12 to 15 are based on the passage you have just heard.

p-12-1 原文

We don't need to tell you that weddings can get expensive. Even with the most meticulous budgeting, a few unexpected costs are bound to occur. While most brides tend to accept this as fact, one Canadian woman, who is only known as Susan, attempted to avoid all wedding costs. She did this by asking her friends and family to pay up to attend her wedding. It went about as well as you'd expect. Susan is causing quite the debate online after posting a bizarre Facebook complaint about her now-cancelled wedding.

我们无需告诉你，婚礼可能会变得非常昂贵。即使预算安排得最为周密，也必然会出现一些意料之外的开支。大多数新娘往往会接受这一事实，但一名仅以 Susan 为人所知的加拿大女子却试图避开所有婚礼费用。她要求亲朋好友付费参加自己的婚礼。结果正如你所料，事情进展得相当不顺利。Susan 在 Facebook 上发布了一篇抱怨她那场如今已经取消的婚礼的奇怪帖子后，在网上引发了激烈争论。

Yes, the couple called off the wedding just days before their wedding vows. Since their guests refused to pay the $1,500 attendance fee, the $60,000 dream wedding was put on permanent hold. In her long explanation filled with cursing and swearing, the bride accused her friends and family of ruining her marriage and her life. She stated that each guest would only need to pay $1,500 while she sacrificed everything for the day. Her maid of honor told her to stick to the budget, as she was asking too much from her guests. But Susan ignored her. Not surprisingly, only eight people responded positively to the wedding invitations and money requests.

没错，这对情侣在交换结婚誓言前几天取消了婚礼。由于宾客拒绝支付 1,500 美元的参加费用，这场价值 60,000 美元的梦幻婚礼被无限期搁置。在那篇充斥着咒骂和脏话的长篇解释中，新娘指责亲朋好友毁掉了她的婚姻和人生。她表示，每位宾客只需支付 1,500 美元，而她为了这一天牺牲了一切。她的伴娘告诉她要遵守预算，因为她向宾客索要的费用太高了。但 Susan 没有理会她。毫不意外，只有八个人对婚礼邀请和付款请求作出了积极回应。

Realizing they would not be able to afford their dream wedding, Susan's future husband suggested getting married in Las Vegas. The bride quickly shut down the idea, saying she did not want a wedding of gambling and heavy drinking. It seems her dream wedding has now become a nightmare.

Questions 16 to 18 are based on the recording you have just heard.

It has long been scientifically established that weather changes can affect people's moods. Now, a new study has provided evidence that temperature can influence people's personalities. This study of over 1.6 million people revealed that 22 degrees Celsius is the perfect air temperature to live in. A city with an average annual temperature closer to 22 tends to have a population who are more agreeable, conscientious, emotionally stable, and outgoing. It is the least taxing temperature for the body to regulate its own temperature.

天气变化会影响人的情绪，这一点早已得到科学证实。如今，一项新的研究提供了温度能够影响人们性格的证据。这项针对超过160万人的研究显示，22摄氏度是最适合居住的空气温度。年平均气温更接近22摄氏度的城市，其居民往往更加随和、尽责、情绪稳定且外向。这是人体调节自身温度时负担最小的温度。

The study was observational and didn't show cause and effect, but the scientists behind it theorized that better weather leads people to leave their home more often. This, in turn, leads to more social interaction, which encourages them to develop a friendlier and socially more acceptable personality. Warmer climates also make people feel more positive in general. They tend to be more agreeable and conscientious.

这项研究属于观察性研究，并未证明因果关系，但研究背后的科学家推测，更宜人的天气会使人们更频繁地外出。这样一来，人们会有更多的社交互动，从而促使他们形成更加友善、在社交方面更容易被接受的性格。较温暖的气候通常也会让人们更加积极乐观。他们往往更加随和、尽责。

The findings might help explain why colder and warmer countries tend to produce people with different personalities. Roughly speaking, about 40% of a person's personality is determined by their genes, the other 60% by their environment. It was already well-known that personality traits vary across geographic regions. Scientists also knew that these geographic personality traits are associated with a broad range of consequential outcomes. These outcomes include economic activity, for example, entrepreneurial start-up rates, and also crime rates, health behaviors, and health outcomes.

这些发现或许有助于解释为什么较寒冷和较温暖的国家往往会孕育出性格不同的人。大致来说，一个人的性格约有40%由基因决定，另外60%由环境决定。众所周知，性格特征在不同地理区域之间存在差异。科学家们还知道，这些与地理区域相关的性格特征与广泛的重要结果有关。这些结果包括经济活动，例如创业企业的初创率，也包括犯罪率、健康行为和健康状况。

And it is well established that personality traits differ between countries. The research team speculated the two might be linked. To test this, they gave online personality tests to 5,587 Chinese students and 1.66 million Americans. They then compared the results with the average annual temperature where they grew up. The tests measured personality along five well-studied characteristics. The five were agreeability, conscientiousness, emotional stability, outgoingness, and openness to newexperiences. In both groups, the researchers found the closer a town'saverage annual temperature was to 22 degrees, the more its populationexhibited those personality characteristics.

此外，不同国家之间的性格特征存在差异，这一点也已得到充分证实。研究团队推测，这两者可能存在联系。为了检验这一点，他们对5587名中国学生和166万名美国人进行了在线性格测试。随后，他们将测试结果与这些人长大所在地的年平均气温进行了比较。这些测试依据五项经过充分研究的特征来衡量性格。这五项特征分别是随和性、尽责性、情绪稳定性、外向性以及对新体验的开放性。在两组人群中，研究人员都发现，一个城镇的年平均气温越接近22摄氏度，其居民越明显地表现出这些性格特征。

However, the findings were much stronger for the Chinese group than the Americans studied, which suggests that though temperature plays a role, it does not play a dominant role. The effects are fairly weak. It's unlikely to lead to many arguments over the temperature setting of the office air conditioner.

然而，这些发现对中国群体的解释力远强于对所研究的美国人的解释力，这表明尽管温度确实发挥作用，但并非起主导作用。其影响相当微弱。因此，温度设定不太可能引发许多关于办公室空调温度的争论。

Questions 19 to 21 are based on the recording you have just heard.

p-19-1 原文

Today, we are talking about loneliness. Loneliness and social isolation are growing public health concerns for people of all ages in the United States, from adolescence to the elderly. Public health experts are worried because loneliness seems to be on the rise, and studies have long found correlations between loneliness and an assortment of medical conditions that threaten health and longevity.

今天，我们来谈谈孤独。对于美国各个年龄段的人来说，从青少年到老年人，孤独和社会隔离正日益成为令人担忧的公共卫生问题。公共卫生专家对此感到担忧，是因为孤独似乎正在增加，而研究长期以来一直发现，孤独与一系列威胁健康和长寿的疾病之间存

The problem of loneliness may be even greater than we thought. A new national poll found that about a third of older Americans are lonely, and almost as many seniors feel isolated. This is a serious problem as research shows that chronic loneliness is particularly harmful to senior citizens. That's because it can impair older adults' memory and damage their physical and mental health. Chronic loneliness even impacts the life expectancy of seniors, increasing their risk of early mortality.

孤独问题可能比我们想象的还要严重。一项新的全国性民意调查发现，大约三分之一的美国老年人感到孤独，几乎同样多的老年人感到与社会隔绝。研究表明，长期孤独对老年人尤其有害，因此这是一个严重的问题。这是因为孤独会损害老年人的记忆，并危害他们的身体和心理健康。长期孤独甚至会影响老年人的预期寿命，增加他们过早死亡的风险。

Let's take a closer look at that poll now. More than a third of seniors in the poll said they felt lonely at least some of the time, and 27% said they sometimes or often felt isolated. This reflects how much time the seniors spent with others. Almost 30% said they socialized with friends, family or neighbors once a week or less. Women were more likely than men to report loneliness.

现在，让我们进一步了解这项民意调查。调查中超过三分之一的老年人表示，他们至少有一部分时间感到孤独，27%的人表示自己有时或经常感到与社会隔绝。这反映了老年人与他人相处的时间。近30%的人表示，他们每周与朋友、家人或邻居社交的次数不超过一次。女性报告感到孤独的可能性高于男性。

But there is good news. It looks like loneliness can be reversed. But researchers are still trying to determine the best way to do so. Why is that? Resolving the problem of loneliness among seniors often isn't as simple as getting them together with others or moving them in with theirchildren. In fact, the poll found that seniors who lived with theirchildren were more likely to report feeling lonely than those who didn't.This may be because loneliness refers to the discrepancy between actual anddesired relationships. So it's possible that someone who lives alonedoesn't meet that definition, while someone in a house full of busy peopledoes.

但也有好消息。看来孤独是可以得到改善的。不过，研究人员仍在努力确定最佳方法。为什么会这样呢？解决老年人的孤独问题，往往并不像让他们与他人聚在一起或让他们搬去和子女同住那么简单。事实上，调查发现，与子女同住的老年人比不与子女同住的老年人更有可能报告自己感到孤独。这可能是因为，孤独指的是实际关系与期望关系之间的差距。因此，一个独居的人可能不符合这一定义，而一个住在满是忙碌人群的房子里的人却可能符合。

How can we solve the problem? Well, the researchers assert that it's important to address each person's underlying cause of loneliness, whether it's the death of a spouse, medical problems, or social expectations that haven't been fulfilled. It's noteworthy that there is one general recommendation. While finding solutions for loneliness is highly personal, research suggests the best interventions are those that involve meaningful social contact at least once a week. Depending on the person, that could mean volunteering, seeing an old friend or something else.

我们该如何解决这个问题呢？研究人员认为，重要的是要解决每个人孤独感背后的根本原因，无论是配偶去世、健康问题，还是未能满足的社会期望。值得注意的是，有一条普遍建议。虽然寻找孤独问题的解决方案高度因人而异，但研究表明，最佳干预措施是至少每周进行一次有意义的社会接触。根据个人情况，这可能意味着参加志愿活动、去见一位老朋友，或者采取其他方式。

To anyone thinking about becoming a travel writer, I would suggest they first try and look for a unique way to enter the industry. There are a lot of travel writers now and it can be hard to stand out from the crowd, which is really why we started We Are Travel Girls. Be prepared to work hard if you want to turn it into a full-time business, and try not to rush to selling advertising spaces before you have created a dedicated audience. The size of your audience doesn't necessarily need to be huge, but you want them to be engaged. If you post too many promotions early on, you will turn many people off.

对于任何考虑成为旅行作家的人，我建议他们首先尝试寻找一种独特的方式进入这个行业。如今旅行作家很多，要在人群中脱颖而出可能很难，这正是我们创办 We Are Travel Girls 的原因。若想把它发展成一项全职事业，就要做好努力工作的准备，并且在建立起一批忠实的受众之前，不要急于出售广告位。你的受众规模不一定要非常庞大，但你希望他们积极参与。如果一开始就发布太多推广内容，会让许多人失去兴趣。

Questions 9 to 11 are based on the passage you have just heard.

p-9-1 原文

Do you ever have the annoying feeling that you don't have time to really think anymore? You are not alone. A variety of factors have conspired to rob us of time for reflection about ourselves and our lives. Today, our preoccupied minds are rarely silent. The average person receives hundreds of texts and voice messages a day, and holidays for many of us are action-packed weeks more likely full of family activities than opportunities for tranquility and contemplation.

你是否常有一种恼人的感觉，觉得自己再也没有时间真正思考了？你并不孤单。各种因素共同作用，夺走了我们用于反思自己和生活的时间。如今，我们被各种事务占据的头脑很少有安静的时候。普通人每天会收到数百条短信和语音消息，而对我们许多人来说，假期也是安排得满满当当的一周，更多的是充满家庭活动，而不是拥有宁静与沉思的机会。

Regular reflection, however, underlies all great professionals. It's a prerequisite for you to recharge your mental batteries, see things in a new light and tap into your creativity. Almost all of the great advisors that I have studied have found ways to get away from it all and contemplate their life and work. Some researchers in the field of creativity, in fact, believe that insight occurs during the reflection and relaxation that follows a period of intense activity.

Even before Colorado was a state, it had post offices. The first opened in 1859, in a settlement founded by migrants searching for gold. Life could be unpredictable out west-gold failed to appear, drought ruined farmers and settlers clashed with Native Americans. On the settlement's location now stands a sprawling university campus. Amid all the changes, one feature remained constant-the postal service.

The maps tracing America's westward expansion are telling. In 1864, there were few postal branches on land controlled by Native Americans, which still accounted for most of the West. Over the next 25 years, post offices grew quickly. Colonization of the West could be regarded as a result of big government rather than pioneers. As federal subsidies and land grants tempted people into the deserts and plains, the post kept them connected.

追溯美国西进运动的地图非常具有说服力。1864年，在美洲原住民控制的土地上几乎没有邮政分局，而这些土地当时仍占据了西部的大部分。在接下来的25年里，邮局迅速增多。对西部的拓殖可以被视为大政府而非拓荒者的产物。随着联邦补贴和土地赠予吸引人们深入沙漠和平原，邮政保持了他们之间的联系。

In the mid-19th century, the Post Office Department was far from a centralized bureaucracy. To keep up with migration patterns, postal services were added to existing businesses. The federal government commissioned private wagons to carry the mail. Short-term contracts were granted to local businessmen to act as postmasters. These partnerships enabled the mail to quickly follow migrants, helping knit together remote parts of the country.

在19世纪中叶，邮政部远非一个集权的官僚机构。为了跟上移民模式的脚步，邮政服务被附加到了现有的商业经营中。联邦政府委托私人马车运送邮件。当地商人获得了担任邮局局长的短期合同。这些合作关系使邮件能够迅速跟随移民，有助于将该国偏远地区紧密联系在一起。

Think about something as simple as buying a coffee. That may not seem like an experience that would make a deep impression on your memory, but anxiety could change that. In fact, a new study suggests that people with higher anxiety levels might remember certain information better than people with lower anxiety levels. That's because higher levels of anxiety may make people more susceptible to negative feelings, putting them in a more negative state of mind. That in turn may make them able to better remember some events.

Let's take a closer look at that new study now. In the study, the researchers started by giving 80 undergraduate students an anxiety test. The test measured the participants' anxiety levels over the preceding two weeks. Then, to test memory, the participants were shown a series of neutral words, one at a time. Some of the words were printed on to photos of negative scenes, meaning images that could affect their emotions negatively, such as a photo of a car accident or a cemetery. The rest of the words were printed on to photos of neutral scenes, such as a photo of a lake or trees. Neutral words included words like "table" or "desk" that don't elicit emotion. Later, the participants were asked to think back to the words they were shown earlier, which caused them to reenter either a negative or a neutral mindset. The participants were then presented with another set of neutral words, and their memory of these new words was tested.

The researchers found that the new words presented to people in a negative mindset were better remembered by people with higher levels of anxiety than those with lower levels of anxiety. In other words, when highly anxious individuals took in otherwise emotionally neutral information that was presented to them, it became colored by their negative mindset, making them remember the information better. But these same effects were not seen in people with low levels of anxiety.

Questions 19 to 21 are based on the recording you have just heard.

Over the past 20 years, the internet has gradually become a dominant feature of our lives. It has changed how we communicate with each other, and it has definitely transformed the way we do business with each other. Marketing has also changed in a number of ways. For instance, in the past, consumers had to call a phone number and patiently wait on hold, in order to get the information they wanted. Today, they want the information immediately. They'll go to the company's social media page and post comments and questions, expecting to receive an immediate response. If they don't get their questions answered soon, they'll move on to another company that will answer them quickly.

Marketing departments today need to follow technological development. For example, this year's smartphone is smarter than last year's; self-driving cars are now on the road. Marketers have to do research on which technologies are coming into being. Otherwise, they risk being left behind in the virtual dust. Marketing has also changed due to the importance of video. People don't just want to read text; they want to watch things happening. Companies now have to explore how they can use video on a consistent basis to share information about their businesses. Fortunately, it's extremely easy to shoot something these days. All you need is a smartphone.

But what's the result of all this? Shorter attention spans. We aren't the same people that we were 20 years ago. Not only have we grown accustomed to getting the information we want instantaneously, our attention spans are much shorter. If something doesn't capture our attention within a few seconds, we're on to the next piece of content. Marketers need to figure out ways to speak directly to the customers' emotions, and they need to figure out how to do that as quickly as possible. Once people are emotionally engaged, they'll stick with you.

但这一切带来了什么结果呢？注意力持续时间变短了。我们已经不是20年前的那群人了。我们不仅已经习惯于即时获得想要的信息，注意力持续时间也短得多了。如果某件事在几秒钟内无法吸引我们的注意力，我们就会转向下一条内容。营销人员需要想办法直接与客户的情感沟通，也需要想办法尽快做到这一点。一旦人们在情感上投入其中，他们就会一直关注你。

If marketing has changed this much in the past 20 years, imagine what the next 20 years will bring. In a recent survey, only 9% of marketers could say with confidence that their marketing efforts were actually working. That's why it's important for marketers to pay attention to the latest technological developments and consider collaborating with technological innovators. That way, they'll be moving at the same pace as the tech industry.

Questions 22 to 25 are based on the recording you have just heard.

p-22-1 原文

You might be surprised to learn that the benefits of friendships extend beyond people's social life and into their work, which is interesting when considering the extent to which people sacrifice friendships, or at least the time they spend with friends, because of the extended hours they're devoting to work. Just last week, I was remarking to a colleague that I'm content with only one social engagement per week. But according to recent research, that's evidently not enough.

你可能会惊讶地得知，友谊带来的益处不仅限于人们的社交生活，还延伸到了工作领域。想到人们常常因为投入工作、延长工作时间，而牺牲友谊，或者至少牺牲与朋友相处的时间，这一点就很有意思。就在上周，我还对一位同事说，我每周只参加一次社交活动就满足了。但根据最近的研究，显然这还不够。

p-22-2 原文

In an initial study of more than 700 respondents, scholars from an American university analyzed the impact that friends, as opposed to family, have on self-esteem and well-being. Friends came out substantially on top. That's because to be someone's mate is a voluntary act, unlike family who people rarely get to choose. The researchers found that when people choose to cultivate and maintain supportive friendships with an individual, it means that the person is valued and worthy of their limited time. Such sentiments of value and worthiness boost our self-esteem.

在一项对700多名受访者进行的初步研究中，一所美国大学的学者分析了朋友相较于家人对自尊和幸福感的影响。结果显示，朋友的影响明显更大。这是因为，成为某人的朋友是一种自愿行为，而家人通常并不是人们可以选择的。研究人员发现，当人们选择与某个人培养并维持相互支持的友谊时，这意味着那个人受到重视，值得人们投入有限的时间。这种受到重视和认可的感受会提升我们的自尊。

The second study comprised more than 300 participants. It proved that the better we feel about ourselves, the more likely we'll perform our job confidently and competently. This follow-up study found that non-work friends even improve people's job satisfaction. They have as much of an impact on how much they love their jobs as do the friends they have at work, despite not actually being at our place of work. These types offriends tend to be our preferred outlet for venting about work-relatedmatters. This is an avenue that may not be available at the office.

第二项研究由300多名参与者组成。研究证明，我们对自己的感觉越好，就越有可能自信而出色地完成工作。这项后续研究发现，工作之外的朋友甚至还能提高人们的工作满意度。尽管这些朋友并不在我们的工作场所，但他们对我们有多喜欢自己的工作所产生的影响，与工作中的朋友一样大。这类朋友往往是我们倾诉工作相关事情的首选对象，而在办公室里未必有这样的倾诉渠道。

p-22-4 原文

So even though friendships can be easy to neglect when confronted by pressures at work, or even pressures at home, neglecting our friends can turn out to be harmful and counterproductive. That's why, when determining how to create a better work-life balance, we need to consider not only how to balance work and family demands, but also how to cultivate and sustain supportive friendships. It's for this reason that managers should never discriminate when it comes to requests from employees for flexible work arrangements. It's irrelevant whether their need for a desired schedule is due to, say, parenting responsibilities, or a craving to hang out with a best mate. What matters is the opportunity to engage in a nourishing activity outside of work. That will definitely have a follow-on effect at work.

因此，尽管在工作压力甚至家庭压力面前，友谊很容易被忽视，但忽视朋友最终可能会带来伤害，并产生适得其反的效果。这就是为什么，在确定如何实现更好的工作与生活平衡时，我们不仅需要考虑如何平衡工作和家庭的要求，还需要考虑如何培养并维持相互支持的友谊。正因如此，管理者在员工提出弹性工作安排请求时，绝不应区别对待。无论他们希望采用某种工作时间安排是因为需要承担育儿责任，还是因为想与最要好的朋友出去相聚，这都无关紧要。重要的是，他们有机会参与工作之外有益身心的活动。这肯定会对工作产生后续影响。

When properly supervised, extreme sports can be a part of a healthy, balanced life. Some adventure sports may be associated with high risks of injury, so it's important for kids to figure out when to take risks, and when not to. Risk-free activities deprive kids of the opportunity to test themselves and overcome their fears. But to some, these very risks are what makes these sports a bad choice. They say that extreme sports can often lead to devastating injuries, especially as young thrill-seekers may attempt feats that are too advanced for them.

在得到适当监管的情况下，极限运动可以成为健康、均衡生活的一部分。有些冒险运动可能伴随着较高的受伤风险，因此，孩子们必须弄清楚什么时候应该冒险，什么时候不应该冒险。没有任何风险的活动会剥夺孩子们挑战自我、克服恐惧的机会。但在一些人看来，正是这些风险使这类运动成为糟糕的选择。他们认为，极限运动往往会导致严重的伤害，尤其是年轻的冒险者可能会尝试对他们来说难度过高的动作。

But let's be real. Most kids do all kinds of dangerous stuff whether you want them to or not. Adventure sports have many of the same risks and dangers, but they have an additional sense of adventure, courage and autonomy that is important to foster in young children. As always, it's up to parents to decide what's best for their kids. But if you do decide that adventure sports are a bit too much, do try to introduce other forms of outdoor adventures into their lives. Camping under the stars, fishing, stargazing or even just playing in the woods can help a lot in building the same sense of self-confidence and risk-taking as in adventure sports.

The shiny gadgets of today will be waste tomorrow. Manufacturers don't talk much about this when they announce the big new thing that will replace your mostly just as good old thing. In fact, technology firms often purposely design devices that will not last long and cannot be repaired so that consumers will have to spend their money on a new one.

今天光鲜亮丽的电子产品明天就会成为废品。当制造商宣布要推出替代你那几乎同样好用的旧产品的新款重磅产品时，他们很少提及这一点。事实上，科技公司往往故意设计使用寿命不长且无法维修的设备，以便消费者不得不花钱购买新设备。

This year, the French government began requiring tech manufacturers to list a repairability score. If a device can be repaired, then its life can be extended, saving consumers money and the planet the burden of so many trashed gadgets. Equipped with this knowledge, consumers can make better choices about which products to buy.

今年，法国政府开始要求科技制造商标注可维修性评分。如果一台设备可以维修，其使用寿命就能延长，从而为消费者节省资金，并减轻大量报废电子设备给地球带来的负担。掌握了这一信息，消费者在决定购买哪些产品时就能做出更好的选择。

Some 59 million tons of old TVs, computers, screens, smartphones, washers and other electronics are discarded every year. This waste is dangerous.

Batteries explode in recycling facilities. Toxic substances like mercuryleak into soil and groundwater and disperse in the air. Manufacturing flatscreens adds greenhouse gases to the atmosphere. We need tech companies totake the lead to solve this problem. If they won't, governments must makethem do so.

每年约有5900万吨旧电视、电脑、显示屏、智能手机、洗衣机和其他电子产品被废弃。这种废弃物是危险的。电池会在回收设施中发生爆炸。汞等有毒物质会渗入土壤和地下水，并散播到空气中。制造平板显示屏会向大气中排放额外的温室气体。我们需要科技公司带头解决这个问题。如果他们不愿意，政府就必须强制他们这样做。

Although tech companies will often speak of environmental sustainability, many lobby against repair legislation, fearful it will eat into their profits. Sustainability matters, but marketable design appears to matter more to these companies. Consumers should support right-to-repair legislation. In this world, damage is a certainty. But we cannot leave things broken: A problem of our creation is a problem that can be fixed.

尽管科技公司经常谈论环境可持续性，但许多公司却游说反对维修立法，担心这会侵蚀它们的利润。可持续性固然重要，但对这些公司而言，具有市场吸引力的设计似乎更为重要。消费者应当支持“维修权”立法。在这个世界上，损坏是必然会发生的。但我们不能任由东西坏着不管：我们制造出的问题是一个可以被解决的问题。

p-16-1 原文

On average, US workers spend about 10% of their workday surfing the internet, emailing friends or shopping online. This behavior, called cyberloafing, is believed to cost employers up to $85 billion a year in lost productivity.

平均而言，美国工人每天约有10%的工作时间用于浏览互联网、给朋友发电子邮件或在线购物。这种被称为“网络闲逛”的行为，据认为每年会因生产力损失而使雇主损失高达850亿美元。

The majority of cyberloafing research focuses on ways to prevent employees from engaging in this behavior through interventions such as internet monitoring and computer use policies. But it turns out, such behaviors may not be a sign that a worker is lazy or just wasting time. Social media use at work has been linked to higher levels of employee engagement and job satisfaction. New research suggests cyberloafing can help workers cope with an exceptionally stressful work environment.

大多数关于网络闲逛的研究都集中于如何通过互联网监控和计算机使用政策等干预措施，防止员工从事这种行为。但事实证明，这类行为未必意味着员工懒惰或只是在浪费时间。研究表明，在工作中使用社交媒体与更高水平的员工敬业度和工作满意度相关。新的研究显示，网络闲逛可以帮助员工应对压力异常大的工作环境。

But is cyberloafing actually effective at reducing employee stress levels? That's the question my research team wanted to answer in our new study. Our hypothesis was that cyberloafing may serve as a mini-break, giving employees an opportunity to recover from stressful work situations. To test this, we asked workers to complete an online survey and rank how much time they spent cyberloafing, checking non-work emails and shopping. We also asked them to rank job satisfaction, their desire to quit, and how often they've experienced mistreatment at work, such as being bullied, threatened or yelled at. As you might expect, we found that overall, more mistreatment at work was correlated with lower levels of job satisfaction and a greater desire to quit. More interestingly, we found that cyberloafing effectively buffered this connection. That is, mistreated workers who spent more time surfing the web and checking emails reported higher job satisfaction and were less likely to want to quit than similar participants who didn't cyberloaf as much. This suggests that cyberloafing acts as a sort of relief valve for workers, helping them recover from stressful experiences.

但网络闲逛是否真的能有效降低员工的压力水平？这正是我的研究团队希望在新研究中回答的问题。我们的假设是，网络闲逛可以起到短暂休息的作用，为员工提供从压力大的工作情境中恢复的机会。为了验证这一点，我们要求员工完成一份在线调查，并对自己花在网络闲逛、查看非工作邮件和购物上的时间进行排序。我们还要求他们对工作满

意度、离职意愿，以及在工作中遭受不当对待的频率进行评定，例如受到欺凌、威胁或吼叫。正如你所料，我们发现总体而言，工作中遭受的不当对待越多，工作满意度越低，离职意愿越强。更有意思的是，我们发现网络闲逛有效地缓冲了这种关联。也就是说，与网络闲逛较少的类似参与者相比，遭受不当对待但花更多时间浏览网页和查看电子邮件的员工报告了更高的工作满意度，也不太可能想要离职。这表明，网络闲逛对员工而言就像一种减压阀，帮助他们从压力经历中恢复过来。

While we did not directly assess how cyberloafing affects worker performance, we believe by relieving stress it may not only reduce worker turnover, but also ultimately bolster productivity. This fits with other recent research that suggests taking short breaks is associated with higher levels of daily job performance. That isn't to say cyberloafing is always good. Too much time spent on non-work activities likely causes performance to suffer. All in all, managers should be more lenient with employees. We believe a bit of online shopping or surfing the internet at work could make workers more productive in the long run.

虽然我们没有直接评估网络闲逛如何影响员工的工作表现，但我们认为，通过缓解压力，它不仅可能减少员工流失，最终还可能提高生产力。这与其他近期研究的结果相符，即进行短暂休息与更高水平的日常工作表现相关。这并不是说网络闲逛总是有益的。花费过多时间从事非工作活动很可能会导致工作表现下降。总的来说，管理者应该对员工更加宽容。我们认为，在工作中进行一些在线购物或浏览互联网，从长远来看可能会让员工更具生产力。

When Julius Morton moved to Nebraska City in 1854, he faced a problem shared by many settlers in the territory: It was a treeless plain. That meant no trees for building materials, or for fuel. But Morton was one of the world's first conservationists, stating, "For prosperity, we ought to plant as many forests as we have exhausted and consumed". So he started planting trees, beginning with his own land. By 1860 Morton possessed a forest of more than 300 trees. A few years later, he had more than 1,000.

1854年，朱利叶斯·莫顿迁居内布拉斯加城时，面临着该地区许多定居者共同面对的问题：这里是一片没有树木的平原。这意味着没有树木可用作建筑材料，也没有木材可作燃料。但莫顿是世界上最早的自然资源保护主义者之一，他说：“为了繁荣，我们应当种植与已经耗尽和消耗掉的森林一样多的森林。”于是，他开始植树，先从自己的土地种起。到1860年，莫顿已经拥有一片由300多棵树组成的树林。几年后，他拥有的树木超过了1,000棵。

As the forest grew, so did Morton's influence in Nebraska. This was largely because Morton founded the Nebraska City News, the state's first newspaper, in which he frequently wrote editorials about the practical and aesthetic benefits of tree planting. He also organized the Nebraska State Gardening Society and served on the Nebraska State Board of Agriculture. While serving on the Board, Morton came up with an idea to spread his belief in tree planting statewide.

随着树林不断生长，莫顿在内布拉斯加州的影响力也日益扩大。这主要是因为莫顿创办了《内布拉斯加城新闻报》，这是该州的第一份报纸；他经常在报纸上撰写社论，介绍植树在实用和审美方面的益处。他还组织成立了内布拉斯加州园艺协会，并担任内布拉斯加州农业委员会委员。任职期间，莫顿想出了一个办法，要将他关于植树的信念传播到全州。

On January 4, 1872, Morton drafted a resolution that April 10 be designated day for the planting of trees in the State of Nebraska and urged people to go out and plant trees themselves. Morton called the special event Arbor Day as "arbor" is Latin for "tree". The state government agreed. And on April 10, 1872, the first unofficial Arbor Day was celebrated throughout Nebraska. Prizes were awarded to counties, cities, and individuals who planted the largest number of trees. That day, an astounding one million trees were planted in Nebraska-an average of more than six for every man, woman and child in the state. Since 1885, Nebraska has planted more than 700,000 acres of trees, earning it the nickname "the Tree Planters State".

1872年1月4日，莫顿起草了一项决议，提议将4月10日定为内布拉斯加州植树日，并号召人们走出家门，亲自植树。莫顿把这一特别活动称为“植树节”，因为“arbor”在拉丁语中意为“树”。州政府同意了这一提议。1872年4月10日，内布拉斯加州各地庆祝了第一个非正式的植树节。植树数量最多的县、市和个人获得了奖励。那一天，内布拉斯加州种下了惊人的100万棵树，平均每位州内居民，包括男女老幼在内，种下了六棵以上的树。自1885年以来，内布拉斯加州已经种植了超过70万英亩的树木，因此获得了“植树州”的昵称。

Arbor Day became a legal, civic holiday in the state in 1885. It was held on April 22-Julius Morton's birthday. In addition to a parade in Nebraska City, Morton introduced what has since become a long-standing Arbor Day tradition: School children went outside and planted trees together.

Questions 22 to 25 are based on the recording you have just heard.

p-22-1 原文

Modern humans arose in Africa about 200,000 years ago. They then spread across Europe and Asia sometime after 60,000 years ago. This is the "Out of Africa" model, as it's commonly known. In the 1990s, the hypothesis foundwidespread acceptance. But this popular idea is in need of revision,particularly given the number of important findings across Asia over thepast few decades.

现代人类在大约20万年前起源于非洲。随后，他们在距今6万年后的某个时间扩散到了欧洲和亚洲。这就是人们通常所说的“走出非洲”模型。在20世纪90年代，这一假设得到了广泛接受。但鉴于过去几十年间在整个亚洲取得的一系列重要发现，这一流行观点有必要进行修改。

For instance, many new human fossils found, particularly in China, are now dated as older than 60,000 years. This calls into question the idea that modern humans migrated out of Africa only 60,000 years ago. Take the recent discovery of two modern human teeth found in the Luna cave in China's Guangxi Zhuang Autonomous Region. When my research team and I dated these teeth, we found they were more than 70,000 years old-a situation clearly impossible if modern humans moved out of Africa only 60,000 years ago.

例如，许多新发现的人类化石（特别是在中国发现的）现在的测年结果都早于6万年前。这使人们对现代人类仅在6万年前才迁出非洲的观点提出了质疑。以最近在中国广西壮族自治区陆那洞发现的两颗现代人类牙齿为例。当我和我的研究团队对这两颗牙齿进行测年时，我们发现它们有超过7万年的历史--如果现代人类仅在6万年前才走出非洲，这种情况显然是不可能的。

The first question we should ask is why did modern humans leave Africa to begin with? If a population is perfectly adapted to a particular environment and has access to an abundance of resources, then there really is no reason to move or change. For instance, some monkeys in Africa have aset of teeth that has hardly changed over the course of millions of years,indicating that they found a place that has worked for them.

我们首先应该问的问题是：现代人类最初为什么离开非洲？如果一个群体完全适应了特定环境并且拥有丰富的资源，那么确实没有理由迁移或改变。例如，非洲的一些猴子的牙齿在数百万年间几乎没有任何变化，这表明它们找到了适合自己的生存之地。

So what happened with humans? Some researchers have suggested that population density increased to the point where smaller human groups were forced to explore new lands. Other researchers have suggested that due to major environmental events in East Africa, humans were prompted to find greener pastures. Yet another explanation could simply be that early modern human hunters were following the large animals that they relied on, and so they moved out of Africa without realizing that they were actually moving from one continent to another.

那么人类发生了什么？一些研究人员提出，人口密度增加到了迫使较小的人类群体不得不去探索新土地的程度。另一些研究人员则认为，由于东非发生的重大环境事件，促使人类去寻找更适宜生存的环境。还有一种解释可能仅仅是，早期的现代人类猎人跟随着他们所依赖的大型动物，因此在没有意识到自己实际上正在从一个大洲迁移到另一个大洲的情况下就移出了非洲。

Humans need daily access to reliable fresh water, which appears to be absent from many coastal areas. This brings us to another question: by which route did modern humans move out of Africa? No clear route across the Mediterranean from North Africa appears to be present, so the earlier dispersals out of Africa and into Europe and Asia might have been across the Arabian Peninsula.

人类每天都需要获得可靠的淡水，而许多沿海地区似乎缺乏淡水。这就带出了另一个问题：现代人类是通过哪条路线迁出非洲的？从北非穿过地中海的路线似乎并不存在明确的路径，因此早期走出非洲进入欧洲和亚洲的扩散可能是穿过了阿拉伯半岛。

Questions 9 to 11 are based on the passage you have just heard.

Kate Atkinson was born in York, England, in 1951. She worked hard to gain her credentials as an author. She studied English Literature at University in Scotland. After graduating in 1974, she researched a doctorate on American Literature. Later, she taught at the university she graduated from, and began writing short stories in 1981. She began writing for women's magazines after winning the 1986 Woman's Own Short Story Competition. Her first novel, Behind the Scenes at the Museum, won the 1995 UK Book of the Year award. The book is set in Yorkshire and has been adapted for radio, theatre, and TV. She has written two plays for a theatre in Edinburgh-the first was called Nice and the second Abandonment, performed as part of the Edinburgh Festival in August 2000.

凯特·阿特金森于1951年出生于英国约克。她努力获得了作为作家的资历。她在苏格兰的一所大学学习英国文学。1974年毕业后，她攻读美国文学博士学位。后来，她在自己毕业的那所大学任教，并于1981年开始创作短篇小说。她赢得1986年《Woman's Own》短篇小说比赛后，开始为女性杂志撰稿。她的第一部小说《博物馆幕后》获得了1995年英国年度图书奖。小说以约克郡为背景，后来被改编成广播剧、舞台剧和电视剧。她为爱丁堡的一家剧院创作了两部戏剧，第一部名为《Nice》，第二部名为《Abandonment》，于2000年8月作为爱丁堡艺术节的一部分演出。

Whatever genre Atkinson writes in, her books touch on the themes of love and loss and how to carry on. They are always presented with ingenuity and a wicked sense of humor. Her books tend to be populated by odd, sometimes sinful, and generally flawed eccentrics who become credible by virtue of being so fully realized. Her books have frequently been described as comedies of manners. That is to say, comedies that represent the complex and sophisticated code of behaviour current in fashionable circles ofsociety, where appearances count more than true moral character. A comedyof manners tends to reward its clever and deceitful characters, rather thanpunish their bad deeds. The humor of a comedy of manners relies on verbalwit and playful teasing.

无论阿特金森创作哪一种类型的作品，她的书都触及爱与失去以及如何继续生活下去等主题。她总是以独具匠心的方式呈现这些主题，并带有一种辛辣的幽默感。她的书中往往充满古怪、有时甚至有罪过、总体上存在缺陷的特立独行者；正因为这些人物被刻画得如此完整，他们才显得可信。她的书经常被称为风俗喜剧。也就是说，这类喜剧描绘的是社会时尚圈中复杂而精致的行为规范，在那里，外表比真正的道德品质更重要。风俗喜剧往往奖赏那些聪明而诡诈的人物，而不是惩罚他们的恶行。风俗喜剧的幽默依靠语言机智和顽皮的调侃。

Questions 12 to 15 are based on the passage you have just heard.

Why is adaptability an important skill to exercise in the workplace? Simply put, adaptability is a skill employers are increasingly looking for. When you spend time learning a new task rather than resisting it, your productivity goes up. You can also serve as an example to your co-workers who may be having trouble adapting, and can help lead your team forward. Strategy consultant, Dorie Clark, explains it to us this way. "I'd say that adaptability is an important skill in the workplace because frankly, circumstances change. Competitors introduce new products, economy might enter a recession, customer preferences differ over time, and more. If you shake your fist at the sky and say why can't it stay the same, that's not going to do very much good. Instead, you need to recognise when circumstances have changed, so you can take appropriate action based on what is, rather than how you wish the world would be. That enables you to make more accurate, informed and effective choices."

为什么说适应能力是在职场中需要培养的一项重要技能？简单来说，适应能力是雇主日益重视的一项技能。当你花时间学习一项新任务，而不是抗拒它时，你的工作效率就会提高。你还可以为那些在适应方面可能遇到困难的同事树立榜样，并帮助带领团队向前发展。战略顾问多莉·克拉克这样向我们解释：“我认为，适应能力之所以是职场中的

一项重要技能，是因为坦率地说，环境会发生变化。竞争对手会推出新产品，经济可能会陷入衰退，客户偏好会随着时间而改变，等等。如果你对着天空挥拳，问为什么不能一成不变，那不会带来什么实际帮助。相反，你需要认识到环境已经发生变化，从而根据现实情况，而不是根据你希望世界呈现的样子，采取适当行动。这样一来，你就能作出更准确、更有依据且更有效的选择。”

p-12-2 原文

Also, the workplace itself has been evolving. Today's work culture and management style is often based on teamwork, rather than a rigid hierarchy. Brainstorming, which requires creativity, flexibility, and emotional intelligence, is a typical problem-solving technique. Employees who are unable or unwilling to participate will not easily move forward in the company. Employees who are flexible demonstrate other skills too. They can reprioritize quickly when changes occur and suggest additional modifications when something is not working. They can also regroup quickly when a setback occurs, adapting to the new situation confidently and without overreacting.

此外，职场本身也一直在不断发展变化。如今的职场文化和管理方式通常以团队合作为基础，而不是建立在僵化的等级制度之上。头脑风暴要求具备创造力、灵活性和情商，是一种典型的问题解决方法。无法或不愿参与的员工，很难在公司中顺利发展。灵活变通的员工还展现出其他技能。他们能够在发生变化时迅速调整优先事项，并在某件事不起作用时提出进一步的修改建议。当遭遇挫折时，他们也能迅速重新组织起来，自信地适应新情况，而不会反应过度。

What makes humans different from other species? Some philosophers argue it's morals or ethics, while some scientists assert it's our greater cognitive development. But I argue that the main difference is our desire to combat routine. This makes being creative a biological mandate, as what we seek in art and technology is surprise, not simply a fulfillment of expectations.

是什么使人类区别于其他物种？一些哲学家认为是道德或伦理，而一些科学家断言是我们更高的认知发展水平。但我认为，主要区别在于我们渴望对抗惯常模式。这使创造具有生物学意义上的必然性，因为我们在艺术和技术中寻求的是惊喜，而不只是满足预期。

As a result, a wild imagination has characterized the history of our species. We build intricate habitats, devise complex recipes for our food, wear clothes that reflect constant changes in fashion, communicate with elaborate signs, symbols, and sounds, and travel between habitats on wings and wheels of our own design. To satisfy our appetite for novelty, innovation is key. But who innovates?

Now, many people, both laymen and experts, believe that only geniuses innovate. But I believe that innovation is not something that only a few people do. The innovative drive lives in every human brain, and the resulting war against the repetitive is what powers the massive changes that distinguish one generation from the next. The drive to create the new is a trait of being human. We build cultures by the hundreds and tell new stories by the millions. We create and surround ourselves with things that have never existed before, while animals do not. But where do our new ideas come from?

如今，许多人，包括普通人和专家，都认为只有天才才能创新。但我认为，创新并不是只有少数人才会做的事情。创新的驱动力存在于每个人的大脑中，而由此产生的反重复之战，正是推动巨大变革的力量，使一代人与下一代人彼此不同。创造新事物的动力是人类特有的特征。我们成百上千地建立文化，以数百万计讲述新的故事。我们创造并置身于此前从未存在过的事物之中，而动物不会这样做。但我们的新思想究竟从何而来？

According to many, new ideas come from seemingly nowhere to great minds. From this perspective, new ideas are almost like magic. They come in a flash of inspiration to a select few. However, the reality is that, across the spectrum of human activities, prior work propels the creative process. We may think of innovation as being the result of inspiration or genius, but it's really the result of developing the ideas of others further. This happens in technology, where one invention enables or inspires further inventions. And it happens in the arts, as writers, composers, and painters use the work of previous artists in their own work. The human brain works from precedent. We take the ideas we've inherited and put them together into some new shape.

许多人认为，新思想会凭空出现在伟大思想家的脑海中。从这个角度看，新思想几乎像是魔法。它们以灵感闪现的方式降临到少数人身上。然而，现实是，在人类活动的各个领域，先前的工作推动着创造过程。我们可能认为创新源于灵感或天才，但实际上，它是进一步发展他人思想的结果。这种情况发生在技术领域：一项发明会促成或启发更多发明。在艺术领域也是如此，作家、作曲家和画家会将前辈艺术家的作品运用到自己的创作中。人类大脑以先例为基础运作。我们吸收继承而来的思想，并将它们重新组合成某种新的形式。

What is a true creator? Is a creator a genius who makes something out of nothing? No. Creators are simply humans who use what they inherit, who absorb the past and manipulate it to create possible futures. Thus, humans are creators as a rule rather than as an exception.

什么是真正的创造者？创造者是那个能从无到有创造出某种事物的天才吗？不是。创造者只不过是运用继承之物、吸收过去并加以改造，从而创造出未来可能性的人类。因此，人类通常都是创造者，而不是只有少数例外者。

Questions 19 to 21 are based on the recording you have just heard.

p-19-1 原文

Many dog owners would tell you that their dog somehow knows when they're ill or upset, and according to researchers who study dog cognition, those pet owners are right. Dogs do know when their human companions are having arough time. Not only can your dog sense when you have a cold, but domesticdogs have shown an aptitude for detecting both much smaller moodfluctuations and far more serious physical conditions. This is because dogsare extremely sensitive to changes in the people they're familiar with, andillness causes change. If a person is infected with a virus or bacteria,for example, their odor will be abnormal, and dogs are able to smell thatchange even if the human can't, because dogs have a much more powerfulsense of smell than humans.

Researchers have also found that a person's mood, which can be an indicator of a larger illness, triggers a dog's sense of smell. Human emotions manifest physically in chemical signals that are emitted by the body, and dogs are able to smell those as well. Beyond smell, dogs gather information from a person's voice in order to sense changes.

研究人员还发现，一个人的情绪可能是更严重疾病的迹象，并会触发狗的嗅觉。人类的情绪会以身体释放出的化学信号在生理上表现出来，而狗同样能够闻到这些信号。除了嗅觉之外，狗还会从人的声音中获取信息，以察觉变化。

In 2014, researchers discovered that dogs have an area of the brain similar to one in humans that allows them to understand emotional cues in the tone of a speaker's voice, beyond what they'd be able to pick up from familiar words alone. A person's voice can also carry indicators of illness. What's not understood quite so well is what dogs understand about these changes. Humans send out lots of cues, but whether dogs know some of these cues mean illness isn't clear. What we perceive as concern on a dog's part might bemore like increased curiosity or suspicion that something is wrong with us,and sticking close by is a great way to gather more information about thesituation.

Some researchers assert dogs will one day help doctors diagnose diseases, as some dogs have already demonstrated the ability to detect an assortment of ailments, including diabetes and certain types of cancer. But those researchers concede that's probably in the distant future. For now, research suggests dog ownership can have an array of benefits in and of itself. Keeping a pet dog has been shown to bolster health and boost mood. Dogs also help people relax, and they can be a particular comfort to those with chronic diseases.

Questions 22 to 25 are based on the recording you have just heard.

p-22-1 原文

Earlier this month, the think-tank called Onward published a report, "A Question of Degree", which argues that degrees in the creative arts are not good value for money. Ministers, according to Onward, should "crack down on courses that offer extremely limited value for money to students ten years after graduation", restricting the ability of such courses to recruit newstudents, if the average graduate earns below the student loans paymentthreshold. Courses like science, technology, engineering, and math, andeconomics, where the average graduate earns a lot, should be favored.

本月早些时候，名为 Onward 的智库发布了一份题为《程度问题》的报告，认为创意艺术类学位的性价比不高。Onward 认为，部长们应当“严厉整治那些在学生毕业十年后仍只能为其提供极低性价比的课程”；如果此类课程的毕业生平均收入低于学生贷款还款门槛，就应限制这些课程招收新生。对于科学、技术、工程、数学以及经济学等专业，由于其毕业生平均收入较高，则应予以优先考虑。

The report provides insight into a government review which looks at how to reform technical education and how to ensure students get good value for money. At first glance, it might even seem like Onward have a point. According to their data, the majority of creative arts students earn less than 25,000 pounds a year, ten years after graduation. The average male creative arts students, indeed, apparently earn much less than they would, had they simply never gone to university. This isn't really good for anyone, and it's certainly no good for graduates, who are forced to endure a lifestyle where they can never save up, never buy a house, never hope to retire.

这份报告为政府正在进行的一项审查提供了参考，该审查旨在研究如何改革技术教育，以及如何确保学生获得良好的性价比。乍看之下，Onward 似乎确实有道理。根据其数据，大多数创意艺术类学生在毕业十年后年收入低于25,000英镑。事实上，据称创意艺术类专业的男性学生平均收入远低于他们如果当初根本没有上大学所能获得的收入。这对任何人来说都不利，对毕业生而言尤其如此，因为他们被迫忍受一种永远无法攒下钱、永远买不起房、永远不敢指望退休的生活方式。

Onward has identified a real problem. Creative arts graduates from top universities-like Oxford, with a high proportion of privately-educated students-have fairly good work prospects. Well, 40 percent of all graduates-regardless of their degree-are on less than 25,000 pounds a year,

5 years after graduation. This suggests that the problem isn't really to dowith specific students studying specific degrees, but really with theeconomy as a whole. Regardless of what they've studied, young people findit hard to get ahead unless they're lucky enough to be born with successfulparents.

Onward 确实发现了一个真实存在的问题。顶尖大学的创意艺术类毕业生，例如牛津大学的毕业生，由于其中有很大一部分学生来自私立学校，因此往往拥有相当不错的就业前景。可是，所有毕业生中有40%--无论他们所学的是什么学位--在毕业五年后年收入低于25,000英镑。这表明，问题其实并不在于某些特定学生攻读某些特定学位，而在于整个经济状况。无论年轻人学了什么，除非他们足够幸运，出生在拥有成功事业的家庭，否则都很难取得进展。

If ministers want to make education pay for young people, they need to look beyond the higher education sector, towards the wider world. The rewards that education gives us are not measurable. They are not always instantly obvious, and certainly not always direct. An education makes you a different person from the one you would have been if you hadn't received it. We need to look at the value of education not in the context of a bank balance, but of a life. If we continue to allow ourselves to be distracted with talk of "value for money", we will all be made poorer as a result.

如果部长们希望让教育为年轻人带来回报，就需要把视野放在高等教育领域之外，转向更广阔的社会。教育带给我们的回报是无法衡量的。它们并不总是立刻显现出来，当然也并不总是直接的。接受教育会让你成为一个不同于未接受教育时的自己的人。我们需要从人生的角度，而不是从银行账户余额的角度，来审视教育的价值。如果我们继续让自己被“性价比”之类的说法分散注意力，最终我们所有人的生活都会因此变得更加贫乏。

W: Yes, a camper van. And no, it's nothing like living out of a car. These are proper vans with full-size beds to sleep in. Some even have kitchens. This way, we wouldn't have to be locked into one place during our holiday. We'd be able to visit so many more places and travel at our own pace. The rates of most hotels and holiday homes really soar in the summer anyway. We'd probably save a lot of money as well.

W: 对，露营车。不过，这跟住在车里完全不是一回事。这种车是真正的厢式车，里面有全尺寸的床可以睡，有些甚至还带厨房。这样一来，度假的时候我们就不用被固定在一个地方了。我们可以多去很多地方，按照自己的节奏旅行。反正夏天大多数酒店和度假屋的价格都会大幅上涨。这样我们可能还能省下一大笔钱。

Questions 9 to 11 are based on the passage you have just heard.

There are many factors that impact our health. These include our finances, our emotions and the way we work. Education is one such factor. Research suggests that higher levels of education can lead to better health and even greater longevity. But what about the education of your partner? New research seeks to answer this question. Researchers use data from a longitudinal study. The data came from surveys first administered to high school seniors in 1957. The surveys ended in 2011. The team found that a person whose spouse had a higher level of education tended to report better health. This remained the case when adjusting for other factors, such as participants' own education, social background and health status before and after marriage. The authors suggest that high levels of education provide shared social, intellectual, emotional and financial resources. These include things like higher levels of emotional intelligence, particular skills or knowledge, or more money. The researchers concede that an individual's own level of education is clearly important for their health, but they assert that individuals also can reap the benefits of their partner's education. It is noteworthy that the effects vary by gender. For women, health was more closely correlated to their spouse's education than for men. The team suggests this may be related to the time period of the study. Women in this sample had lower levels of education and lower occupational achievements than the men. The researchers' hypothesis is that this made the husband's resources more likely to have a shared impact.

配偶教育水平的相关性比男性更密切。研究团队认为，这可能与研究所处的时代有关。该样本中的女性教育水平较低，职业成就也低于男性。研究人员的假设是，这使得丈夫所拥有的资源更有可能对夫妻双方产生共同影响。

Questions 12 to 15 are based on the passage you have just heard.

p-12-1 原文

Climate scientists predict that many parts of the world will be increasingly prone to floods. This is a serious risk to human lives and property. So understanding and accurately forecasting flood risks is a key challenge for vulnerable cities around the globe. In 2017, Derek Loftis of the Virginia Institute of Marine Science started a project called Catch the King. It uses a smartphone app to collect the data of ordinary citizens during high tides. He'll use those data to validate and improve his mathematical flooding model, called TideWatch. Loftis's mission is to know where the water goes before it goes there. But collecting necessary data and then processing that information quickly enough to make usable forecasts is anything but easy. Accurate flood forecasts require an understanding of the situation on the ground. By the early 2000s, supercomputing had advanced enough that scientists could integrate weather forecasting models with such measurements. But they still didn't have the critically important ability to forecast fast-moving floods in real time. So, in 2017, Loftis and colleagues set up a group of 28 Internet-connected water-level sensors throughout the flood risk community of Norfolk, Virginia. The new sensors relayed rough measurements about water height and movement to a computer at the Virginia Institute. Along with those sensors, hundreds of local citizens take photos of rising tides and transmit them in real time to the institute. Scientists hope that the data collected by these citizens can help sharpen the ability to forecast exactly when and where damaging floods will occur.

命，是在水流到某处之前弄清楚它将流向哪里。然而，收集必要的数据，并随后足够迅速地处理这些信息，以便做出可用的预报，绝非易事。准确的洪水预报需要了解地面实际情况。到21世纪初，超级计算技术已经发展到足以让科学家将天气预报模型与此类测量数据结合起来。但他们仍然不具备实时预测快速移动洪水这一至关重要的能力。因此，2017年，洛夫蒂斯和同事在弗吉尼亚州诺福克的洪水风险社区内设置了一个由28个联网水位传感器组成的网络。新传感器将有关水位高度和移动情况的粗略测量结果传送到弗吉尼亚海洋科学研究所的一台计算机上。除了这些传感器之外，数百名当地市民还拍摄潮水上涨的照片，并将照片实时传送给该研究所。科学家希望，这些市民收集的数据能够帮助提高预测能力，从而准确预报破坏性洪水将在何时何地发生。

Questions 16 to 18 are based on the recording you have just heard.

p-16-1 原文

Now, it's become something of a ritual to debate the value of a college degree, but as Current Population Survey data show, there has been a sharp decline in employment among men without college degrees compared with those who have them. This decline began in the 1960s and has become more serious over time.

如今，讨论大学学位价值已经成了某种惯例，但正如当前人口调查数据显示的那样，与拥有大学学位的男性相比，没有大学学位的男性就业率出现了大幅下降。这种下降始于20世纪60年代，并且随着时间推移变得更加严重。

What has actually caused this decline? Well, economists have been working to ascertain the roots of the decline for decades and have come up with several theories. One popular theory is that it's a case of too low wages for jobs that don't require a degree. An alternate theory is that there were more jobs not requiring a college degree in the past than now.

究竟是什么导致了这种下降？几十年来，经济学家一直在努力探究其根源，并提出了几种理论。一种流行的理论认为，这是因为不要求大学学位的工作薪资过低。另一种理论则认为，过去不要求大学学位的工作比现在更多。

A recent working paper from the National Bureau of Economic Research reviewed those theories and put forward additional hypotheses about the causes of the problem. Let's look at that paper now. First, the researchers considered the issue of wages. As the wage gap has grown between those with college degrees and those without, economists have suggested that men aren't as interested in taking some of the less lucrative jobs. While the authors of the paper found truth in this explanation, they assert that low wages can't be the only factor, as wages for men without college degrees, adjusting for inflation, haven't changed much since the 1960s, making it hard to see why fewer men seem willing to accept those wages.

美国国家经济研究局最近的一篇工作论文审视了这些理论，并进一步提出了有关这一问题成因的其他假设。现在让我们来看看这篇论文。首先，研究人员考察了工资问题。由于大学毕业者与未获得大学学位者之间的工资差距不断扩大，经济学家认为，男性对从事一些收入较低的工作不再那么感兴趣。虽然论文作者发现这种解释有一定道理，但他们断言，低工资不可能是唯一因素，因为没有大学学位男性的工资按通货膨胀调整后，自20世纪60年代以来并没有太大变化，这使人们难以理解为什么似乎有更少的男性愿意接受这样的工资。

This leads to the second theory, that more jobs require a college degree today than in the past. Indeed, that theory seems valid, because in America today, 2/3 of jobs are filled by workers with at least some college education. However, the authors of the paper argue that there are other factors amplifying the problem.

这就引出了第二种理论，即如今比过去有更多的工作要求求职者拥有大学学位。事实上，这一理论似乎是成立的，因为在今天的美国，三分之二的工作由至少接受过部分大学教育的劳动者担任。然而，论文作者认为，还有其他因素加剧了这一问题。

They identified two new potential explanations: the first being the tremendous decline in marriage among men without college degrees since the 1960s; and the second being the increase in women participating in the workforce that was concurrent with the decline in marriage. These two changes mean that men might not have families to support, or if they do,their wives might be doing more of the providing, both of which mightremove the financial incentive to work. The authors of the paper concedethat research on the subject isn't complete, but they argue that their worksupports the value of a college education.

他们找出了两种新的潜在解释：第一，自20世纪60年代以来，没有大学学位男性的结婚率大幅下降；第二，女性参与劳动力市场的比例有所上升，而这一变化与结婚率下降同时发生。这两种变化意味着，男性可能没有需要供养的家庭；即使有，他们的妻子也可能承担了更多供养家庭的责任，而这两种情况都可能削弱男性工作的经济激励。论文作者承认，对这一问题的研究尚未完成，但他们认为，其研究成果支持接受大学教育的价值。

Questions 19 to 21 are based on the recording you have just heard.

p-19-1 原文

While an increasing number of people are trying to eat less meat, a market research team has found in its latest fashion and sustainability report that the trend is now spreading from kitchen to closet. It found animal welfare came top of a list of issues that people considered before buying clothes, with 42% saying it was important to them. The researchers of the team predicted that the next year would see a boom in animal-free shoe collections, since they heard shoppers of all ages say they would buy footwear designated as "vegan", meaning the goods were produced without using any animal or animal part.

As well as being on trend, and with a much better ring to it than synthetic leather, the vegan label does convey an important extra distinction. If you label something as vegan, then the whole product needs to be animal free. That means checking things like the glue that holds the shoe together, for example, and the chemicals used for finishing them. At the top end, some of the world-renowned fashion designers have avoided leather and fur for some time. In fact, some of the companies are now exploring a leather substitute and a silk replacement made from mushrooms.

除了符合潮流，而且比“合成皮革”听起来悦耳得多之外，“纯素”这一标签确实传达了一个重要的额外区别。如果将某件商品标为纯素，那么整件产品都必须不含动物成分。这意味着，例如，需要检查用于粘合鞋子的胶水，以及用于进行表面处理的化学品。在高端领域，一些世界知名的时装设计师已经有一段时间不再使用皮革和皮草。事实上，其中一些公司如今正在探索用蘑菇制成的皮革替代品和丝绸替代品。

The Animal Free Product Society says they've seen a boom in products registered with the vegan trademark. In 2018, there were 119. So far this year, it says an unprecedented 1,956 have been registered. New products are being added daily. There are fur coats that are vegan, plastic vegan belts and shoes made from tree bark or natural rubber labelled vegan. These new products aren't coming at an extra cost to consumers though. Vegan boots cost the same as the leather originals. New Look, one of the first reputable store chains to use the vegan trademark, prices ballet shoes at £7.99 and a vegan laptop handbag at £29.99, comparable with its other products.

Animal Free Product Society表示，他们看到注册纯素商标的产品数量激增。2018年，这类产品有119件。截至今年目前为止，该协会称已有创纪录的1,956件产品完成注册。每天都有新产品加入其中。标为纯素的产品包括皮草大衣、塑料制纯素腰带，以及用树皮或天然橡胶制成的鞋子。不过，这些新产品并没有让消费者承担额外费用。纯素靴子的价格与原皮革靴子相同。New Look是最早使用纯素商标的知名连锁店之一，其芭蕾舞鞋售价为7.99英镑，纯素笔记本电脑手提包售价为29.99英镑，与其他产品的价格相当。

This signifies a change. In the past, ethical products, whether they were fair trade or organic, came at a premium. However, it is unclear whether these new products can be considered ethical. The debate over durability, crop-growing impacts, pollution and recyclability is a complicated one, not to mention the ethics around the working conditions for people making the products, whatever the component materials. Environmental campaigners advise that the best approach is to buy less, never mind what the item is made of.

这标志着一种变化。过去，无论是公平贸易产品还是有机产品，伦理类商品的价格都更高。然而，这些新产品是否可以被视为符合伦理标准，尚不明确。关于耐用性、作物种植的影响、污染和可回收性的争论十分复杂，更不用说无论所用材料为何，生产这些产品的工人的工作条件所涉及的伦理问题了。环保人士建议，最好的做法是少买东西，不管商品是由什么制成的。

By the end of 2016, anyone who had been paying even passing attention to the news headlines was highly likely to conclude that everything was terrible, and that the world was going to hell. It was easy to feel depressed by the wars in different parts of the world, the spread of deadly viruses or terror attacks.

到2016年底，任何哪怕只是偶尔关注新闻头条的人，都极有可能得出这样的结论：一切都糟透了，世界正走向毁灭。世界各地的战争、致命病毒的传播或恐怖袭击，很容易让人感到沮丧。

Yet, 2016 was the best year in the history of humanity. Child mortality was roughly half what it was as recently as 1990. And 300,000 more people gained access to electricity each day. Every single measure of material and environmental welfare in America, Europe, Asia, Africa and the world as a whole has improved rather than deteriorated. We are living in history's most peaceful era, with violence of all kinds in steep decline. Those are the facts. So why aren't we all optimists?

然而，2016年却是人类历史上最好的一年。儿童死亡率大约只有就在1990年时的一半。每天还有30万人获得了用电的机会。在美国、欧洲、亚洲、非洲以及全世界范围内，衡量物质和环境福祉的每一项指标都在改善，而不是恶化。我们正生活在人类历史上最和平的时代，各种形式的暴力都在急剧减少。这些都是事实。那么，我们为什么没有全都成为乐观主义者呢？

In a 2015 survey for YouGov, 65% of British people and 81% of the French said they thought the world was getting worse. However, according to numerous sensible statistics, these people are simply wrong. Nobody in their right mind should wish to have lived in a previous century. Yet people do. Why?

在YouGov于2015年进行的一项调查中，65%的英国人和81%的法国人表示，他们认为世界正在变得越来越糟。然而，根据大量合理的统计数据，这些人的看法显然是错误的。任何心智正常的人都不应希望自己生活在过去的某个世纪。然而，人们确实会有这样的愿望。为什么？

Our prevailing mood of despair is irrational. It says more about us than it does about how things really are. It is best explained as the result of various psychological biases that served a purpose for our evolutionary ancestors-but now, in a media-saturated era, constantly mislead us. Once upon a time, it was of great survival value to be worried about everything that could go wrong. This is what makes bad news especially compelling.

我们普遍的绝望情绪是不理性的。它更多地反映了我们自身，而不是事物真实的状况。对这种情绪最好的解释是：它源于各种曾为我们进化时期的祖先发挥过作用的心理偏差，但如今在媒体充斥的时代，这些心理偏差却不断误导我们。曾几何时，对所有可能出错的事情保持担忧具有极大的生存价值。正因如此，坏消息尤其引人关注。

In our evolutionary past, it was a very good thing that our attention could be easily seized by negative information, since it might well indicate a dangerous risk to our own survival. The caveman who always assumed there was a lion behind the next rock would usually be wrong, but he'd be much more likely to survive and reproduce than one who always assumed the opposite. But that was all before newspapers, television and the internet. In today's hyper connected times, our addiction to bad news just leads us to vacuum up depressing or enraging stories from across the globe. Whether these news stories threaten us or not, we conclude that things are much worse than they actually are. Really good news, on the other hand, can be a lot harder to spot in a newspaper because predictable daily events by definition aren't news.

在我们的进化史中，我们的注意力很容易被负面信息吸引是一件非常有益的事，因为这些信息很可能意味着对自身生存构成的危险。那个总是假定下一块岩石后面有一头狮子的穴居人通常会判断错误，但与总是假定情况相反的人相比，他存活并繁衍后代的可能性要大得多。但那是在报纸、电视和互联网出现以前。如今，在这个高度互联的时代，我们对坏消息的沉迷只会让我们从全球各地吸纳令人沮丧或愤怒的故事。无论这些新闻是否真的对我们构成威胁，我们都会得出这样的结论：事情比实际情况糟糕得多。另一方面，真正的好消息在报纸上往往更难被发现，因为可预见的日常事件按定义来说并不算新闻。
